Valencia School Early Childhood Education ECE meets students' needs

By Lynne Locke

The Valencia Elementary School Early Childhood Education (ECE) program combines a parachute, plastic foam meattrays, typewriters, workbooks and a handmade quilt to meet the individual needs of each student.

Teacher team leader Jan Bell said the ECE program uses aides and learning centers to provide individualized instruction. The ECE program is in its first year at Valencia School.

The 300 students, kindergartners through third graders, are divided into small groups for classroom activities. The teacher presents a new concept to one group while the other groups work with aides.

Each classroom is divided into learning or activity centers which focus on different skills. The kindergarten includes reading readiness and listening centers. At other centers kindergartners compare different shapes or sounds.

The week's lessons are planned so that students work in each center. Teachers and aides supervise the activities and evaluate each child's progress. Mrs. Bell said extensive records are kept so lessons can be individualized for each child.

First, second and third graders move from center to center and room to room for various lessons. Mixing grade levels in the small groups overcomes the feeling of failure if a student isn't working at grade level, Mrs. Bell said.

Primary grade learning centers are similar to the kindergarten centers. In listening centers, students listen to records or tape recorders or an adult reads to the group. Through such activities children learn to enjoy music and stories as well as learning how to listen and follow directions.

Each learning center has all the materials needed for the activities. A creative writing center includes paper, pencils and an instruction card or an interesting picture.

A reference center has dictionaries and other reference materials. Math centers have clocks for telling time as well as plastic foam meattrays with plastic chips for counting and learning arithmetic.

Students have especially enjoyed the typing center with its three typewriters. Game centers where children play number or word games are also popular.

Game centers aren't just for fun. Mrs. Bell said games and tactile experiences reinforce concepts presented by the teacher. Children lose game center privileges if they don't follow the basic center rules.

Mrs. Bell noted that centers are good tools for teaching children responsibility since it is their job to clean up all materials they use. Centers can be equipped without much expense since such common items as plastic foam meattrays, paper plates and metal film cans are used.

Children are divided into groups on the basis of working pace as well as skill level. Mrs. Bell said even students who have the same level of ability work at different speeds. Methodical workers can become very frustrated if they are forced to work quickly, she noted.

Classroom activities include individual as well as group projects. Students have been making scenes of the history of Upland. They also are drawing pictures to sew into a large quilt of Upland history.

Kindergartners have a favorite outdoor game involving an old parachute. Children hold the parachute edge and, following the teacher's directions, change places, skip in a circle and completely enclose themselves in the parachute.

A large part of the state ECE funds are used for classroom assistance. Mrs. Bell said teachers rely on paid and volunteer parent aides to provide individual attention to students.

She said teachers present all the new concepts, but the aides are important in reinforcing learning and in spotting children who need additional help.

The ECE program also has had great success with cross-age tutors especially in the afternoon when volunteer adults are not available, Mrs. Bell said.

Cross-age tutors are older students who work 15-20 minutes a day for two weeks. A total of 30 cross-age tutors work in the program each day.

Mrs. Bell said tutors include students from all ability levels. She noted that some students with discipline problems have improved their self-images by working as cross-age tutors.

Teachers have worked especially hard to organize the program, Mrs. Bell said. They visited other schools and then planned a program specifically for Valencia students.

She said planning is essential so children are placed at the proper level and are able to move on as they are ready.

The program also requires constant evaluation and communication among teachers and aides so lessons are presented properly and goals are met. Mrs. Bell said teachers have spent a lot of time this year setting up learning centers and making many of the games and lesson packets the children use.

She noted that the effort has been worth it since the program scored very well in its first state evaluation. Teachers have been excited to see the change in the children and the enthusiasm shown by parents and the community, she added.

The PTA and the parents' bridge club have raised money to purchase supplies and donated a duplicator which teachers have really appreciated, Mrs. Bell said.

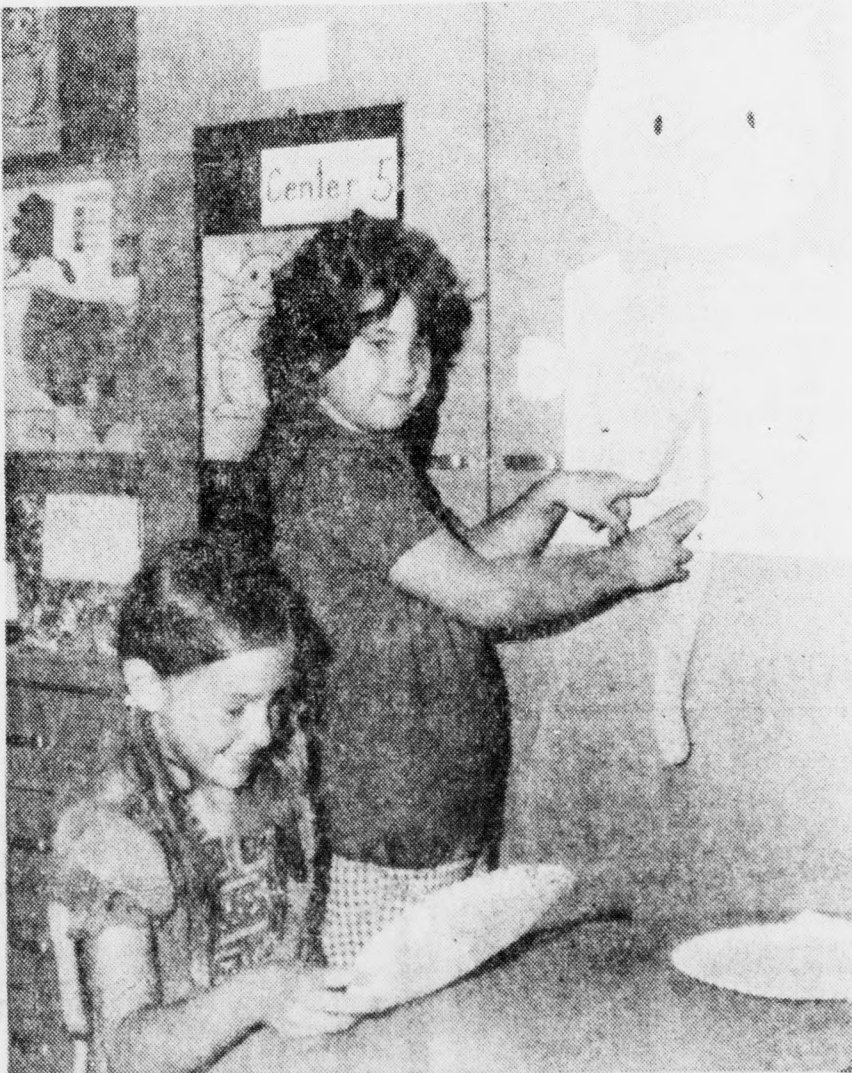

ECE teachers now are working to involve area service clubs and community residents. Parents, retired people and local organizations are all good resources since they include people who have experience in all fields, she said.

Center designed to meet women's needs

By Lynne Locke

"Generally women haven't been given encouragement and support in going out and doing things for themselves," said Mary Wooten, coordinator of Chaffey College's new Women's Center.

The center, which opened in early February, is designed to meet the needs of women in the community as well as women students.

There are many women of all ages, including high school, who need opportunities for self-exploration and improvement of self-concepts and information on careers, education, health and child care, according to a report by the Chaffey College Women's Task Force.

The center operates mainly as an informal drop-in center where women can meet other women they might not have come in contact with, the coordinator said.

The center also plans to sponsor programs and interest groups. Sexual Equality Week, May 11-17, will focus on the changing roles of men and women. Past programs have included women's day, film series and presentations by women in such careers as truck driver, architect, law enforcement officer, engineer and school administrator.

Mary said plans for next quarter include interest groups for returning women students, single mothers, men, and groups for consciousness raising and assertiveness training. Other groups will be set up as they are requested, she added.

The center is not just academic but hopes to work on women's problems, she said. As an information center, the Women's Center will have resource files on financial aid for women and health and child care resources.

Part of Mary Wooten's job as coordinator is to reach women in the community. Women don't have to be enrolled at Chaffey College to use the center's resources, she noted. Her goal is to set definite daytime and evening hours for the center so women can come in at all times.

The center presently is interviewing community women to discover their needs. Mary said the center hopes to learn what courses, facilities and activities women want and what problems are keeping them from attending college.

Statistics show the need for women's programs at Chaffey College. According to the Women's Task Force report, the number of women students has almost doubled since 1968. Nine out of 10 women will work at some times in their lives and one out of every eight families are headed by women.

"Opportunities should be provided for all women, recent high school graduates to the mature woman, to explore alternatives that are available to them through education," the report said.

The task force said one of the center's main goals is reaching women who have been confined to low-paying, unstable employment because of cultural background, family responsibilities or lack of skills.

The center also should help women develop pride in the achievements of women and show women that their hopes can be achieved, the report said.

The center is trying to hire two part-time staff to assist the coordinator. Mary said "A lot of wonderful enthusiastic women" have helped start the center.

"I have a strong feeling women have volunteered so much, it's about time they got paid for what they do," she added.

The Women's Center is located in Campus Center East, room 49E. For information call 987-1737 or 822-4484, Ext. 371.

New Cal State busway

Residents of eight communities in the Pomona Valley can now take an express bus to California State University, Los Angeles.

New direct bus service is provided to the university from Montclair, San Dimas, Claremont, Upland, Cucamonga, Alta Loma, Ontario and La Verne. One-way fare is 25 cents. Bus routes involved are 60 and 402.

Pomona Valley residents attending classes at Cal State L.A. or visiting the campus for an event can board buses at several locations in each community, then proceed along the San Bernardino Freeway to the RTD busway station at the southern end of the campus.

Opening of the station marks the completion of the San Bernardino Freeway busway program. The project was made possible by a grant from the Urban Mass Transportation Administration, Federal Highway Commission, Southern Pacific Transportation Co. and the cities of El Monte and Los Angeles.

Burdette Shearer of Claremont, admissions officer at Cal State L.A., said that applications for admission to the Spring and Summer quarters are now being accepted. Spring Quarter classes begin March 31. For enrollment information, call (213) 224-3361.

The opening of the busway's final on-line station completes the historic $58 million transit project.

"The El Monte Busway has had tremendous response from the people of Los Angeles County since the first days of operation," said Thomas G. Neusom, RTD president.

"The USC Medical Center station added a significant number of daily passengers. Now, the completed Cal State station located at California State University will attract many student commuters and is expected to raise this figure even higher," he said.

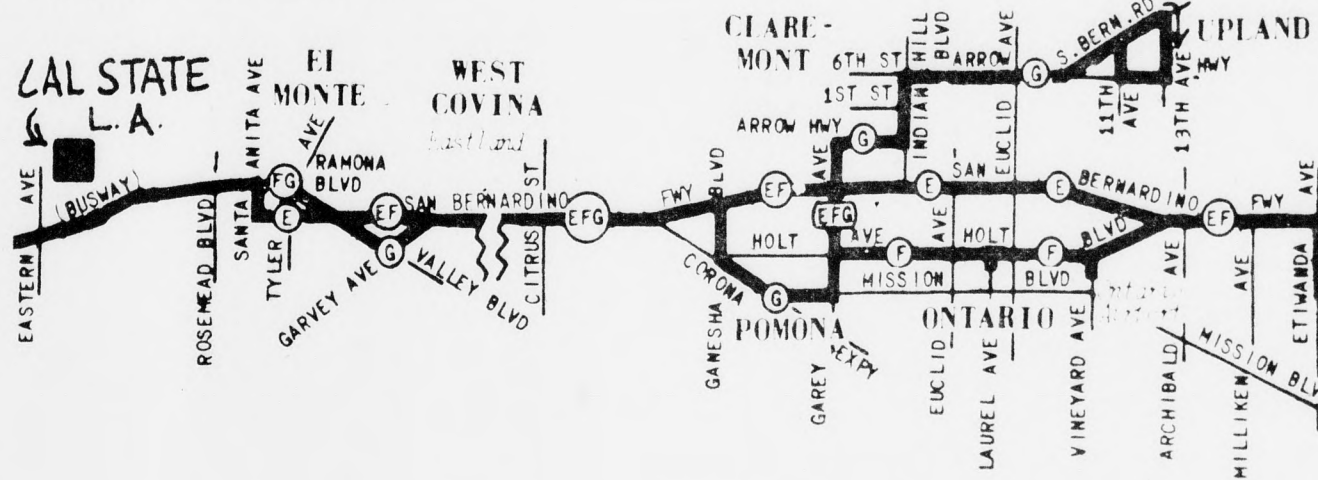

The El Monte-Los Angeles Busway currently provides service to approximately 12,000 daily passengers. A two-year program of monitoring and evaluating the facility will now begin.

The unique design of the University station has accomplished service at three levels: the entrance, or ground level of the station, is adjacent to the university campus; 20 feet down and accessible by elevators is the second or middle level to the westbound busway lane.

Buses will be leaving every two to five minutes during weekday peak hours. The first Los Angeles-bound bus commences service from the university station at 5:42 a.m. (6 a.m. and 6:25 a.m., respectively, on Saturdays and Sundays) with the last inbound trip departing at 1:20 a.m.

Outbound buses to the University station will begin as early as 6:20 a.m., every day of the week with the last trip departing at 1:01 a.m.

RTD line 60 - serving Montclair, Upland, Cucamonga, Alta Loma

BUSWAY OPENS — Nannette Hunter of San Dimas, a coed at California State University Los Angeles, examines the RTD schedule for new express service to the campus. Direct bus service is now

Mental illness will be discussed

Maggi Wargin, feminist therapist, will present an overview of what mental illness is, who defines and threatens it, and who decides what constitutes a mentally healthy woman.

the stresses that often accompany these changes.

An open forum for questions and answers will follow the talk. The meeting is open to the general public and is free of charge.

Mrs. Wargin is a part-time counselor at Chaffey College, and has taught several women's courses, including exploring alternatives for women, which involved career-counseling for women returning to work after a long period of time. Boys' Club Week noted throughout West End

Members of the West End Boys' Clubs will celebrate the 20th annual National Boys' Club Week through Sunday. This year's theme is "Get to Them Before the Street Does."

Tom Neyman, executive director, said today that some 1,100 boys' clubs in America will take part in the celebration spotlighting the youth-guidance organization's drive to build kids into productive, responsible citizens.

To commemorate the week, an open house is being held at the Cucamonga branch, 10071 Feron Blvd., Cucamonga, on Wednesday at 7 p.m.

"All members of the community are invited to drop in," Neyman said. "We want everyone to see the mind-broadening, character building and sports-oriented activities that Boys' Clubs offer youngsters every day of the year.

"We are aware of the increasing rate of juvenile delinquency on the national level in recent year," Neyman said, "and we at Boys' Clubs take pride in getting to some of these boys before the street does. That's because Boys'

Clubs offer their million members positive alternatives to drug abuse, disease, violence and crime."

West End Boys' Clubs is a member agency of West End United Way.

New federal funds may soon be available for the extension of the Foothill Freeway, according to Second District Supervisor Dan Mikesell, but the state must complete plans for the freeway to make it eligible for the federal funds.

Mikesell, chairman of the Transportation Steering Committee for the National Association of Counties, made the statement at a recent Upland Chamber of Commerce breakfast.

The supervisor, recently returned from a trip to Washington, D.C., said he has learned that only 10 to 15 per cent of the $11.4 billion provided under the Federal Public Transportation Act of 1974 will be used for the interstate freeway system. The rest of the funds, he said, would be available for local connector routes such as the Foothill Freeway.

"But the first order of business," Mikesell said, "is to insist that the state immediately complete plans and specifications (for the freeway) so we can be eligible when the funds are offered."

The Ontario supervisor said he learned of the possible funding in discussions with Congressman Robert Jones, chairman of the House Transportation Committee, and with Senator Lloyd Bentsen of Texas, who is chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on Highways.

However, a spokesman for the state department of transportation (CALTRANS) said this morning it would take two to three years to complete the planning for the Foothill Freeway and indicated CALTRANS would not do any more planning for the freeway in the near future.

"There is no way anywhere along the Foothill Freeway we could meet that deadline,"

Stalker said, stating that the state must complete the design, the environmental impact report and hold public hearing on the extension of the freeway before it will be eligible for federal funds. "That would be a two to three year process," he said.

Spaces still offered for flea market

There are still spaces available for Upland's Spring Flea Market, which was rained out Sunday and has been rescheduled for next Sunday.

The flea market will be held at Upland's Memorial Park in conjunction with the Upland Kiwanis Club's pancake breakfast.

Pancakes will be served from 6 a.m. to 1 p.m. and the flea market will open at 9 a.m. and run until 5 p.m.

According to the Upland Chamber of Commerce, coordinator of the event, more than 5,000 persons are expected to attend.

Chamber spokesman Debbie Calton said an 8' X 10' space can be rented by those who wish to sell items. A charge of $5 is made for each rental space.

Tickets for the breakfast cost $1.50 for all the pancakes you can eat.

Pomona Juniors

Uplander named Citizen of Year

Earline LaPierre of Upland has been named the 1974-75 Citizen of the Year by the Pomona Junior Women's Club.

Mrs. LaPierre now will be entered as a candidate in the San Gabriel Valley District, Junior Membership, contest for the same title.

The honored woman is serving currently as the Pomona

Juniors' convention chairman and San Gabriel Valley District publicity director. From June of last year until January of this year, she was the club federation chairman, district press book chairman, state convention chairman and was in charge of the master seating for the state convention sessions.

Mrs. LaPierre initiated the Pomona Junior's Halloween safety project called "Operation TOTS" (trick or treat safety) which involved 10 Junior Clubs in the San Gabriel and San Bernardino areas. She also has been project chairman for the answering of 150 Santa Claus letters, and she was responsible for the collection of magazines and used handbags for the women at the California Institution for Women, near Chino. She also has served on the bylaws, nominating and awards committees.

Mrs. LaPierre also is being honored for her work in the community where she is a volunteer teacher's aide in both of her children's classes, has coached a girls' softball league team, supports the Little League and works in its snack bar and has been a black worker for the West End United Way and the drives for the American Cancer Society.

Easter bunny slated to visit Upland park

The Upland Recreation Department has announced that the Easter bunny will be in town March 29 at 10 a.m.

Tiny Tots instructors Sue Baker, Carol Root and Laurie Tipton has agreed to meet with the egg-bringing fellow at the Upland Memorial Park baseball diamond to hide over 1,000 foil-wrapped chocolate

Easter eggs.

Children ages 3 to 5 years are welcome to come and attempt to recover the eggs beginning at 10 a.m. on the baseball diamond. Children are asked to bring their own basket.

Prizes will be given to the child finding the "Golden Egg" and also to the children finding the most eggs.

Upland recreation slate

The Upland Recreation Department is offering 52 different programs for children, teens and adults, commencing the first week in April. Registration is being taken at the recreation department, 404 N. Second Ave., Upland, for programs involving fees. For free programs, persons can enroll at the first class meeting. Brochures are available at the recreation department, city hall, Upland Public Library, and the Upland Chamber of Commerce.

Boundary change cuts phone bills

LOS ANGELES — Telephone bills will be about $3,138 a year less for some 76 customers in General Telephone's Ontario exchange because of a base rate area expansion approved yesterday by the California Public Utilities Commission.

The base rate area is to be expanded about 1.15 square miles in Cucamonga to include an industrial tract and a residential area north of Foothill and east of Rochester.

Savings will occur because monthly mileage charges now billed on the distance of a subscriber's telephone from the nearest boundary of the base rate area will be eliminated for some and reduced for others.

Increasing population density meets PUC criteria for enlargement.

Programs include: ceramics-pottery; ceramics - slip casting; creative sewing-mini courses; decorative crafts for the home; beginning drawing; Ikebana-Japanese flower arranging; jewelry; knitting and crocheting-beginners; advanced knitting; leaded stained glass; macrame; needlecraft-stitchery; needlepoint; painting and collage; painting-landscape; patchwork and quilting; portrait drawing and painting; crafts for teachers; sewing-men's clothing; sewing-zigzag machine; adult sports night; fencing; firearm safety-home and field; gymnastics.

Junior high interschool athletic program; karate; table tennis; tennis; ballet; tap and acrobatics; baton; belly dancing; body conditioning for women; slim and trim; tap dancing; drum corps; folk guitar; cake decorating; gourmet cooking on a budget.

Oriental cooking; beginning chess; wardrobe and make-up clinic-teens; community recreation night; contract bridge; Easter egg hunt; fashion/color coordination; hatha yoga; modeling workshop; Los Olivos recreation center; Odyssey Teen Club; radio ham operators; tiny tots; and living in later life.

For further information, contact the Upland Recreation Department at 982-1352 Ext. 55 or 56.

Vans to back up minibus fleet

The county will purchase three 15-passenger vans to back up its fleet of 20 minibuses.

The county board of supervisors approved the purchase of the three vans at a cost of $13,500 each.

According to the county transportation department, the vans will back up the fleet of minibuses during periodic down-time for maintenance.

Back up is currently being provided with the county transportation system by holding several of the minibuses in reserve. The three vans will release the entire fleet of buses for regular service, the transportation department said.

Fascinating visual collection at Chaffey College

The intricate forms and details of common objects and familiar plants and animals, invisible to man's unaided eye, are dramatically revealed in "Below Man's Vision: Electronic Windows to Unseen Worlds" on exhibit at the Rex W. Wignall Museum-Gallery through April 11. Organized by the Field Museum of Natural History, the exhibition is circulating under auspices of the Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibition Service. Over 100 photographs in the impressively mounted display show structures magnified at 50 to 20,000 times life-size. The exhibit offers a rare viewing experience. Not only are the photographs scientific revelations, they are artistically disclose the exquisitely detailed works of nature. A common housefly's wing edge, tongue, balancing organ and eye are enlarged thousands of times life-size. The remarkable foot structure that lets a fly cling to a glass light bulb is shown for the first time. The teeth of land snails are magnified at up to 20,000 times life-size. Minute details of windblown plant pollen are examined. The instrument used to make these pictures is the revolutionary scanning electron microscope (SEM). Available to scientists since only the mid-1960's, the SEM is the most important advance in seeing in almost 400 years. Man first began to use microscopes in the study of small objects during the early to mid-1600's. Today, the best optical microscopes can penetrate little further into the world of unseen detail. Optical viewing has a shallow depth of field (area in sharp focus). The transmission electron microscope, in use since the 1930's, has a vastly increased depth of field, but is efficient only at 5,000 times life-size, and up. The SEM has a depth of field that is 200 times as great as that of the optical microscope at the same magnification. In the magnification range of 50 to 20,000 times life-size, the SEM is permitting observations and illustrations that were previously unobtainable with optical or transmission electron microscopes. Even in areas of magnification that overlap optical and transmission techniques, the SEM has opened an entirely new area for observations. Using the SEM, objects can be studied at anywhere between 10 and 100,000 times life-size. Clicking a dial changes the magnification and, at the same time, the specimen can be moved and the lighting altered in various ways. When the adjustments are completed, a photograph can be made. Many things scientists see in their studies may be considered beautiful and strange, but the organisms usually are unfamiliar to the layman. Therefore, a major task in preparing "Below Man's Vision" was to select common objects and well-known organisms and then explore the details of their structure. In this way, the versatility of the SEM could be better demonstrated and the visitor would become more aware of his surroundings.

The exhibit is divided into three areas: The Limits of Seeing-Eye, Optic and Electron Viewing; Unseen Worlds to the Commonplace - Details of Everyday Objects and Organisms; and Explorations at Field Museum of Natural History and American Dental Association - Samples from Current Research.

The exhibit was made possible by support received from the Kent-Cambridge Scientific Instrument Co. and Cambridge Scientific Instruments, Ltd., plus the cooperation of the American Dental Association Research Institute and its staff.

The gallery is open Mondays through Thursdays, from noon to 4:00 p.m. and from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.; Fridays, from noon to 4 p.m.; and Sundays from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. It is closed on Saturdays and holidays. Admission is free and lecture tours may be arranged by calling the gallery. (714) 987-1737 or 822-4484, Ext. 337.

Program at museum

Hobbyists to speak

The specialized hobbies of Mark and Ruth Law of Claremont will be explained by the couple when the Chaffey Community Art Association meets at 7:30 p. m. Thursday at the Chaffey Community Cultural Center Museum, 523 W. 18th St., Upland.

Mrs. Law makes wooden toys, and her husband knits and makes quilts.

Mrs. Law started making toys 16 years ago for her children since toys on the market, in her consideration, were inappropriate, too complex and too delicate for children. She uses a saw to make wooden animals, and she cuts the likenesses of people from clothespins. Collaborating with Jean Ray Laury, Mrs. Law has written a book called "Handmade Toys" which describes the pleasures of toy making. Her toys have been shown in several leading magazines and exhibited at the Museum of Contemporary Crafts in New York City and the California Design Show in Pasadena.

Mark Law's work, according to an association spokesman, is directly related to his origin in Utah which was described as being frugal, utilitarian and a self-sufficient way of life. In Law's native country, he observed his elders making braided rugs and lived in a world where a quilting bee was an everyday event.

He makes use of traditional techniques in his work but departs from traditional patterns as he prefers more contemporary and creative approaches to designs.

Following his studies at Brigham Young University, he graduated from UCLA with a B.S. degree in apparel design with his interest directed to textiles and with a special interest in Navajo rugs and early American fabric craft. He also was interested in the use of knitting and crocheting for clothes.

His quilts and sweaters have been shown in a leading magazine newspaper section, in various arts and crafts shops throughout California and in the Bresler-Eitel Gallery in Milwaukee, Wis. Most of his quilting and knitting is done for either commissions, family needs or as gifts for special friends.

The program also will include a report on the Arts and Crafts Fair.

Choice of new college president anticipated

A replacement for retiring Chaffey College President T. Stanley Warburton should be selected by the end of March, board chairman Herschel Glenn reported.

A campus interviewing committee has submitted to the board its ranking of the five finalist candidates for the president's post.

Glenn said he couldn't comment on reports from campus sources that placed Kenneth C. Hinrichsen, Chaffey's No. 2 administrator, high on the interviewing committee's recommendations.

The board president said the selection process is conducted under strict confidentiality, a procedure designed to protect the candidates.

Glenn said over 50 educators applied for the combination president-superintendent's post that will open upon Warburton's June 30 retirement. The board required that the new president have experience in the California education system, Glenn reported.

A three-member professional screening committee reviewed the applications, checking the credentials and professional backgrounds of the candidates. A Chaffey College professor and educators from the University of California at Los Angeles and Riverside campuses sat on the professional screening committee.

The professional screening committee passed on 11 names to a campus interviewing committee, which had members visit several of the candidate's campuses.

Included on the interviewing committee were Glenn, a faculty representative, Marlin Dickey, a classified member, John Viencek, a student senate representative, Sheri Wooten, and an administrative member, J. Michael Alexander.

The interviewing committee eliminated six names from the 11-person list and forwarded to the board its list of five final candidates. Each candidate was assigned a one to five

Four locations approved tax

The March 4 Chaffey Union High School District tax override measure received majority approval in only four of the district's 57 polling areas.

Some 36.7 per cent of the district's 43,141 registered voters cast ballots.

The certified vote returns presented Monday to the Chaffey Union Board of Trustees identified only four polling places as giving the tax measure at least a 50 per cent "yes" vote. They are:

— The Alta Loma Junior High School polling station, which serves two Alta Loma precincts. Yes, 234; No, 144.

— Elderberry School, serving two Ontario and two Montclair precincts. Yes, 204; No, 163.

— Mountain View School, covering six small precincts in Ontario and unincorporated areas. Yes, 23; No, 20.

— Baldy View School, which serves two Upland precincts. Yes, 150; No, 148.

Overall, 9,057 negative votes were cast against the override, compared to 6,543 "yes" votes, a 42-58 per cent breakdown.

In other matters coming before the board on Monday, the District Curriculum Steering Committee presented a letter that asked the board to retain the current graduation requirements.

In late December, the committee of teachers had recommended the district's graduation requirements remain at 220 units and the English and social science requirements stay at 30 units each.

Why Do You Suffer From Your Headache?

By DR. W. P. HELZER, D.C.

Fifteen million Americans suffer from headaches every day. Why?

Well, technically, most chronic headaches are due to irritation and compression of the upper spinal nerves.

But when you talk headache you could spend an hour discussing various technical and medical aspects and they'd still all boil down to one thing: Pain.

But to stick with the "why," you must realize that headache is part of the symptom complex in many diseases. However, most chronic or recurring headaches at the base of the skull and upper neck are caused by irritation of the upper three spinal nerves.

Spinal nerves which supply the scalp may be compressed or irritated by a slightly displaced spinal segment which partly occludes the spinal opening through which the nerves exit the spine.

This type of chronic headache at the base of the skull may radiate pain to the top of the head and the temples. This is usually accompanied by tender spots in the scalp, upper neck, and at the base of the skull. It may occasionally be accompanied by dizziness and nausea and thereby confused with other types of problems.

The upper three spinal nerves may also be irritated or compressed by postural decay of the upper spine.

In this case the scalp and neck muscles are constantly pulled to a critical tension against the spine and skull... excessive and prolonged muscle tension compresses the delicate nerves which lie between the skull and the scalp muscles.

All this talk of headaches is always overshadowed by pain experienced by the sufferer. You can't do much for a headache by just talking. The person who has a painful headache, especially if it's a chronic condition, wants and needs effective treatment.

It should be remembered that all serious headache problems start with a first one, then another, then another until the condition is chronic. Talk to a person who suffers from recurring migraine attacks and you'll seek effective treatment of your first headache.

Of course, most of those 15 million daily headaches get a pain pill treatment. It's so unfortunate the public is oriented this way. These self-treating habit-forming poisons are simply delaying final action on a headache. They offer only temporary relief and obviously do little if anything toward correcting the basic cause of the headache.

"Why" the headache? That question has been answered. "Why" not effective treatment? That question is up to you.

Easter Egg Braid for holiday

Breads baked during the Easter season traditionally have been thought to contain many wonderful virtues... from bringing luck to even preventing shipwrecks.

This fanciful Easter Egg Braid will make a delightful gift to friends and family on Easter Day when bundled up in a pretty straw basket. It's a rich egg bread with a crispy crust, topped off with a colorful cinnamon candy glaze. Marshmallow candy eggs in pretty pastel shades nestle between the braids of the loaf.

resting in a "nest" of green tinted coconut.

You'll be as popular as the Easter Bunny himself when you fill someone's basket with this sweet Easter surprise. Here's the recipe, developed by the National Confectioners Association:

Easter Egg Braid

BREAD:

2 packages active dry yeast
1/2 cup warm water (105-115 degrees)

1 cup milk, scalded and cooled
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup butter, softened
3 eggs
2 egg yolks
1 tablespoon salt
6-1/2 to 6-3/4 cups all-purpose flour

TOPPING:

1/4 cup red cinnamon candies
3 tablespoons water
2 tablespoons butter
3 cups confectioners sugar
3/4 tablespoons water
Green tinted coconut

Candy-coated marshmallow eggs

To make bread:

Dissolve yeast in warm water in a large mixing bowl. Add milk, sugar, butter, eggs, yolks and salt. Beat in 2-1/2 cups of flour until smooth. Stir in enough remaining flour to make dough easy to handle. Turn dough out onto lightly floured surface and knead until smooth and elastic. Place dough in a greased bowl, turning greased side up and cover. Let rise in a warm place for 2-2 1/2 hours until dough doubles in size.

Punch dough down, then divide into six equal parts. Shape each part into 14-inch rope. Line up three ropes, one inch apart on a greased baking sheet, then braid them loosely, beginning in the middle and working toward the ends. Pinch ends and tuck under. Repeat with remaining three ropes to form a second braided loaf. Cover and let braids rise about 45 minutes until they double in size. Brush each with soft butter and bake in a 375 degree oven 30-35 minutes or until lightly browned.

To make topping:

Melt red cinnamon candies in three tablespoons water in a small saucepan over low heat. Stir constantly until candies dissolve, then blend in butter. Stir candy mixture into bowl with confectioners sugar. Blend in 3/4 tablespoons water until pink frosting is of spreading consistency. Drizzle icing over warm braids, then sprinkle with green tinted coconut. For finishing touch, decoratively place candy-coated marshmallow eggs across top so that they nestle between braids of each loaf. Makes two braids.

Desserts in jiffy

Convenience food aid homemaker

Now that time, as well as money, has become a precious commodity we need to budget it wisely. Many homemakers no longer spend hours in the kitchen preparing meals. They rely heavily on convenience foods and partially prepared products to save time and energy.

It is always a good idea to keep an emergency supply of canned, bottled and packaged foods on hand — the kind that can be served instantly or with a minimum of preparation. Yesterday's cake and fresh fruit become an exciting dessert fondue when dipped into melted concordgrape jelly. Combine two or three different varieties of canned soup for a spur-of-the-moment first course. Make fancy desserts in a jiffy. Take ordinary poundcake, slice into three layers, spread bottom two layers with one jar of concordgrape preserves, assemble, frost and sprinkle with chopped nuts. Presto! An easy, elegant torte.

Suggested here are two fancy desserts made with convenience foods. Their ease of preparation makes them suitable for both parties and family meals.

For the French Peach Tart a frozen pie crust, packaged pie crust mix or your favorite pastry recipe can be used, depending on the length of time you want to spend. The filling is a luscious concoction of whipped cream laced with orange-flavored liqueur. Canned peach slices are then attractively arranged over the filling and glazed with a mixture of concordgrape jelly and lemon juice. Additional whipped cream is piped around the edge of the tart and sprinkled with crumbled peanut brittle or chopped nuts for garnish.

Branded Strawberry Sauce is something you will want to keep in your refrigerator at all times to perk up ice cream, fruit or pudding.

French Peach Tart

1 package pie crust mix or 1 frozen 8-inch pie crust, baked and cooled

1 tablespoon orange-flavored liqueur

2 cups sweetened whipped cream or prepared whipped topping

1 can (1 pound) peach slices, well-drained

1/2 cup concordgrape jelly

1/4 teaspoons lemon juice

Sweetened whipped cream

1/4 cup crumbled peanut brittle or chopped nuts

Prepare pie crust mix according to package directions and shape into 8-inch tart pan or pie plate. Stir liqueur into 2 cups whipped cream, chill.

Just before serving, spoon whipped cream into pie crust. Arrange peaches on top. Melt concordgrape jelly with lemon juice. Spoon over fruit. Garnish with additional whipped cream and peanut brittle. Makes one 8-inch pie.

Note: 1 package vanilla pie filling cooked with 2 cups half-and-half and thoroughly chilled may be substituted for the 2 cups whipped cream.

Branded Strawberry Sauce

1/2 cup concordgrape jam

2 tablespoons brandy

1 teaspoon cornstarch

1 tablespoon water

2 cups coarsely chopped strawberries, fresh or defrosted frozen

1 teaspoon slivered lime peel
Combine concordgrape jam and brandy in saucepan. Heat, stirring, until jam is melted and heated. Blend cornstarch and water; stir into syrup. Cook, stirring, until sauce is thickened and smooth. Add strawberries and lime peel. Heat sauce, stirring occasionally. Serve warm over ice cream, fruit or pudding. Makes about 2 1/2 cups sauce.

Ingenuity, planning

Stretch Easter with bread

High food prices make everyone think twice before investing in large, expensive cuts of meat for just one meal. Yet, with a little ingenuity and planning, even a large ham for Easter dinner can be a good buy.

It's easy to stretch a large cut of meat into several meals. By practicing what restaurants call portion control, you can get the most for your money and not skimp on your special dinner. Just ask your butcher to divide a large, bone-in ham for you ahead of time. Allow 1/3 pound of meat per person for Easter dinner and use the remaining pieces for delicious, hearty "planned-over," instead of leftover, meals for the family.

For instance, make one of your "planned-over" meals a sandwich supper. Give those sandwiches a very special base, slices of freshly-baked Toasted Cheese Raisin Bread. Fresh yeast breads laced with raisins have always been a traditional part of the Easter season. And Toasted Cheese Raisin Bread is a delicious way to make the season last a little longer. In fact, once you taste this bread, you will want to serve it all year long. The flavors of rich mellow cheese and tangy California raisins give this bread a taste and aroma that will turn the leftover ham sandwich into a party centerpiece.

Toasted Cheese Raisin Bread is a snap to prepare because you make it according to a new yeast baking technique which saves a lot of time and energy. It's also a good bread to bake ahead and freeze, thanks to the raisins which not only add flavor but also help keep this delicious bread moist and tender longer.

Toasted Cheese Raisin Bread
1 1/2 cups milk
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1 package active dry yeast
4 1/2 cups flour
1/4 cup sugar
1 tablespoon salt
1 egg
2 cups California raisins
1 1/2 cup shredded soft Danish-type cheese
In saucepan, heat milk with butter until very warm (120-130 degrees). In mixing bowl, stir together undissolved yeast with 1/2 cups of the flour, sugar and salt. Add liquids, beat for 2 minutes at medium speed, scraping bowl occasionally. Add egg and another cup of flour; beat 2 minutes more. Stir in remaining flour; turn dough onto floured board and allow to rest 10 minutes. Then knead until smooth and elastic (about 10 minutes), using 1/4 cup more flour, if necessary. Place dough in greased bowl, cover, and let rise in warm place until double in bulk (about 1 1/2 hours).

Punch down, knead in raisins and grated cheese. Divide dough into 2 parts; shape into loaves; place in 2 greased 9 x 5 inch loaf pans. Cover and let rise in warm place until double in bulk (about 1 hour). Brush loaves with butter or beaten egg. Bake in preheated 400 degree oven for 35 minutes, or until golden brown. Remove to racks to cool. Makes 2 loaves.

Toasted Cheese Raisin Bread will turn Easter ham into a party sandwich supper. These are days of stretching and if you figure your Easter ham right, you'll have leftovers for many things, but now is the time to think about it.

Wiring of jaws is poor diet plan

The obese woman who lost 100 pounds after her jaws were wired shut has thrust mouth doctors into the midst of the weight reduction craze.

Oral surgeons are being "flooded" with requests to perform the jaw wiring, says the Journal of Oral Surgery in a recent editorial. The requests, the Journal says, have posed the doctors with both moral and ethical questions.

Wiring jaws closed might cause a shifting of teeth, periodontal disease, dental caries, and more seriously, vomiting could fill the lungs with food and stomach secretions, the editorial says. Aside from these complications, the Journal says, there is the "question of whether we are subjecting the patient to a procedure that will not really accomplish its intended purpose."

Just because the jaws are wired shut "does not guarantee loss of weight. Patients can actually gain weight as a result of poorly planned diets or from failure willingly to reduce caloric intake."

Even if the wiring does cause a weight loss what happens when the wires are removed?

"Persons who need a gimmick such as wiring of the teeth to lose weight are probably so poorly motivated in the first place that long-term success with weight control is extremely doubtful," the editorial says.

"Weight control is even more difficult than weight reduction. New eating habits must be developed, most gimmicky diets are failures because an eating pattern that can be followed indefinitely is not established. This is certainly true for the liquid diet used when the jaws are fixed," says the editorial.

The California Dietetic Association advises the overweight and obese to eat a varied but low calorie diet. A variety of foods from the Four Food Groups — milk, meat, vegetables/fruit and bread/cereal — in reduced portions is the most effective and safest way to lose extra pounds. Exercise also helps.

Perk up meals with glazing

This is the time to take advantage of winter vegetables in your area. Perk up any hot cooked vegetable with a curry sauce or whip up a glaze for apples or a mixture of apples and carrots and parsnips with a touch of inexpensive sweetness from corn syrup.

Curry Sauce
1/2 cup real mayonnaise
1/4 cup dairy sour cream
1 tablespoon tarragon vinegar
1/4 to 1/2 teaspoon curry powder

Mix together ingredients in a small saucepan. Heat over low heat 2 to 3 minutes, stirring occasionally. Serve over hot cooked vegetables. Makes 3/4 cup sauce.

Tangy Apples
1 can (1 pound, 4 ounces) sliced apples
3/4 cup light corn syrup
2 tablespoons margarine
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
Drain apples. Mix together apple juice, corn syrup, margarine, lemon juice and lemon rind in saucepan. Bring to boil over medium heat. Boil 5 minutes. Add apple slices.

Cover. Reduce heat and simmer 5 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Glazed Vegetables And Apples

1 pound carrots, peeled, sliced
1 pound parsnips, peeled, sliced
3 medium apples, cored, sliced

1/3 cup light corn syrup
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
1/3 cup orange juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup margarine
Cook carrots and parsnips in lightly salted boiling water until almost tender. Place precooked carrots, parsnips and apples in 2 quart casserole or baking dish. Mix together corn syrup, orange rind, orange juice and salt. Pour over vegetables. Dot with margarine. Bake in 375 degree oven 25 to 30 minutes or until vegetables and apples are tender. Makes 6 servings.

(Note: Peeled small white onions, cooked with carrots and parsnips may be substituted for apples.)

Oatmeal is pet meat stretcher

Are hamburgers, meatloaf or meatballs appearing on your dinner table more frequently these days? It's a good bet they are, for according to reports from the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Americans are consuming more ground beef than ever before.

With the budget so hard pressed, the reason for this popularity is obvious — ground beef mixed with an inexpensive meat extender can make more servings of a variety of different dishes.

Oatmeal, for example, a favorite with thrifty homemakers for the past century, gives interesting texture to ground beef dishes and extends their protein value, too. High in cereal protein, natural oatmeal when combined with hamburger, "beefs up" its protein content. And, oatmeal is still one of the least expensive sources of cereal protein. An ounce of the old fashioned or quick cooking varieties costs only about three cents.

The proportions recommended by the home economists at The Quaker Oats Company are 3/4 of a cup of uncooked oatmeal to 1-1/2 pounds of ground beef. Whether for hamburgers or meatloaf, that quantity will make about 8 hearty servings.

Pioneer woman minister to speak

The Rev. Priscilla Alden Chaplin, executive director of the Southern California Council of Churches and first woman to serve as a parish minister of a Presbyterian Church, will be guest speaker at the 60th Annual Meeting of the Pilgrim Place Corp. Friday.

Her topic will be "An Ecumenical Pilgrimage." The meeting will follow a 6:30 p.m. dinner in Abernethy Hall, Claremont to be attended by corporation members, residents and special guests, and is open to the public.

Pilgrim Place is a religious and cultural center where 300 retired missionaries, ministers and other Christian workers make their homes. Residents come from service in 26 foreign countries and every state of the union.

The community has a world outreach through its residents' activities, and it is well known in the Southern California community by its Pilgrim Festival and International Arts programs.

Stanley Larson will preside at the annual meeting and the corporation will elect officers, amend by-laws, hear a dialogue by new residents of Pilgrim Place, the reports of the administrator, G. Worth George, and the director of development, Nichol M. Sandoe, Jr.

Ms. Chaplin was appointed administrative director of the Southern California Council of Churches in April, 1971, following the retirement of Dr. Forrest Weir, and was elected executive director in January, 1973.

She was born in the northern interior of China and came to the United States at the age of six to live during her school years in Claremont.

Granddaughter of Dr. Henry Kingman, pastor of the Claremont Church (now United Church of Christ, Congregational), she is the daughter of Mrs. Edith K. Chaplin, a resident of Mt. San Antonio Gardens, Pomona, who has been a member of the Pilgrim Place Corp. for many years.

Ms. Chaplin was graduated from the University of California at Berkeley and then gave four years to voice and opera studies in New York City.

After clinical (psychological) training at Andover Newton Theological School in Newton Center, Massachusetts, and graduation from Union Theological Seminary, New York City, she was ordained a minister of the United Presbyterian Church in 1957. She was the third woman of that denomination to be ordained.

and the first to serve as a parish minister.

She has been a United Presbyterian delegate to the Consultation on church Union.

She was the chairman of the Presbyterian General Assembly's Special Committee on the Role and Status of Women in the Church, when it was first organized in 1967.

First Church of the Nazarene

'The Living Portrayals of Christ' set Sunday

West End residents will present "The Living Portrayals of Christ" in songs and tableaux 7:30 p.m. March 23 and 28 at the First Church of the Nazarene, 120 W. 9th St., Upland.

The program will include scenes of the Holy Land accompanied by the singing of the Sanctuary Choir and scripture readings by the narrators.

Different segments of Christ's life will be portrayed in a series of 11 settings with "live" biblical characters. The scenes will include Christ calling His disciples, calming the storm, His triumphal entry into Jerusalem, Jesus praying in the garden, carrying His cross, the crucifixion, the Resurrection, as well as the Prodigal Son, and the Woman at the Well.

Narrators will read passages of scripture setting the scene to be portrayed. The choir will sing hymns appropriate to the scenes as they are portrayed.

Songs will include "I Can Hear My Savior Calling," "Master, The Tempest is Raging," "Then Jesus Came," "Eternal Life," "Broken Vessel," "Fill My Cup Lord," "Hosanna! Hosanna!" "Alone," "The Calvary Road," "Were You

There," and "Because He Lives."

All area residents are invited to the performance. Tickets are available without charge by calling the church office, 982-1364.

Pastor Kerry Lumley will be directing the choir. Bonnie Ziebarth is program director. The Rev. Irving Sullivan, senior pastor, and Ruth Smith are the narrators.

The Woman at the well will be portrayed by Colleen Shaw of Ontario; Prodigal Son is Mike Crites of Upland; and the father of the Prodigal Son is George Lightner of Alta Loma.

Colored slides used for background scenes were taken by John Entner of Upland while he was in Jerusalem.

Memorial services set for local clergyman

Dr. J. Frederick Frankenfeld, 97, oldest resident of the Pilgrim Place retirement community in Claremont, passed away at the McCabe Medical Facility March 12.

He first came to Pilgrim Place to live in 1949.

On March 25 at 3:30 p.m. a memorial service will be held in Kingman Chapel, Claremont United Church of Christ at which the officiants will be Dr. David Held, senior pastor of the church and Dr. John Flucke of Pilgrim Place, second cousin of

Dr. Frankenfeld.

The family has requested that in lieu of flowers memorial gifts may be sent to Pilgrim Place, 660 Avery Road, Claremont, 91711.

Dr. Frankenfeld was for 24 years pastor of the largest congregation (Salem Evangelical Church of Rochester, N.Y.) in the Evangelical Synod of North America, now a part of the United Church of Christ.

An eloquent preacher both in English and German, he was a gifted Bible teacher and a dynamic church leader and builder. He had a distinguished record as a pastor of churches in New Orleans, La., Rochester, N.Y., Elmhurst, Ill., and Inglewood, Calif.

Because of his dedication to the work of the local parish, he turned down a bid to be president of his denomination, an influential national post.

He served as president of the Rochester, N.Y. Church Federation and, for many years, as chairman of the board of trustees of St. John's Home for the Aged at Rochester and of Elmhurst College from which he received the Doctor of Law degree. He received his education at Elmhurst and at Eden Theological Seminary.

In 1919, he accompanied the president of the Foreign Mission Board of his denomination on a rugged, donkey-back tour of Honduras to ascertain the feasibility of establishing a mission station in that country. The work which was founded at that time continues to flourish.

Theology school applications due

The School of Theology at Claremont is now accepting applications for the 1975 Summer Session.

A variety of courses will be offered including many short term workshops and seminars and the work-study program at Flaherty Farm, Dummerston (near Brattleboro), Vt. The courses will be taught not only by the distinguished faculty of the School of Theology but also by distinguished nationwide professors.

Among the courses and workshops are: elementary Hebrew; elementary Greek; contemporary urban issues; liberation theology; preaching and recent American fiction; a family systems approach to marriage counseling; religion and art; comedy, tragedy, and spiritual values; living with death; teaching that turns learners on; pastoral counseling.

One course, toward a new international economic order, will be taught by Dr. C. Dean Freudenberger and a work team from the staff of the Church Center at the United Nations.

The purpose of this course is to strengthen Christian leaders with skills for the implementation of new concepts of global responsibility for those political, social and economic systems which now inhibit the development process and aggravate the problem of poverty.

Dr. Joseph Forcinelli will teach a course in religion and public education dealing with a study of rationales, strategies and methodologies in teaching about religion in the public schools, an examination of licensing standards and requirements for the State of California and other states, and the prospects for teaching positions.

Further information about all the courses being offered may be obtained by contacting the office of admissions, School of Theology at Claremont, Foothill Boulevard at College Avenue, Claremont, Calif. 91711, telephone (714) 626-3521.

Recruits face stiffer requirements in Army

The U.S. Army has raised the qualifications for enlistment. Women's qualifications remain the same, but men enlisting must score higher on the entrance exams. Waivers submitted for exception to policy are being approved less.

The Ontario Army recruiting station is suggesting local high school seniors to take advantage of the Delayed Entry Program which guarantees the graduates a job and choice of assignment upon graduation.

The G.I. Bill is also available to veterans for furthering their education in the college of their choice once they return to civilian environment. In addition to the above mentioned changes, the Army Recruiting Command cannot exceed its For example, the Ontario recruiting station may only enlist between 20 and 30 young men and women from the Ontario, Chino, Upland, Cucamonga, and Alta Loma areas per month. Staff Sgt. Simental urged persons desiring entrance into the Army in the near future to contact his office as early as possible to secure some of the more desirable skills and assignments.

Catholic federation convenes

The regular meeting of the Italian Catholic Federation, St. Joseph Branch No. 216, Upland was held recently at St. Joseph's Parish Hall.

Branch No. 216 and St. George's Branch No. 280 will hold a joint anniversary dinner-dance on April 11 at The Gallery, formerly The Basque, in Montclair. No host cocktail hour will start at 6:30 p.m., dinner at 7:30 p.m. and dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Make Easter day festive

The Easter bunny comes directly from dairyland with an artful idea for that special Sunday brunch.

In petite individual casseroles he has nestled hard cooked deviled eggs with no fewer than four favorite dairy products and his own favorite food—garden fresh carrots!!! And leaving nothing to chance, he's even carried out the colors of spring's freshest daisies. The gold of the cheddar cheese and carrot shreds against the white eggs and dairy sour cream makes a sunny melange that's as visually pleasing as it is tasty.

Because it's done in individual portions and oven baked, this is an easy to manage company entree and can be assembled a bit ahead.

The flavor secret of the deliciously deviled eggs is sour cream mixed with the yolks plus onion salt and basil for seasonings. Surrounding the filled eggs is a light and tasty mixture that's simply butter sauteed grated carrots combined with more tangy sour cream. What could be easier and more honestly good? The integrating element to go on last is a smooth, creamy sauce of milk and sharp cheddar cheese. Spoon it on top, then pop the casseroles in the oven for a quick 20 minutes.

They'll be piping hot and wonderfully aromatic with the melting cheddar cheese. Buttered muffins and fresh fruit are more than enough to finish this festive brunch menu.

Milk and made from milk products are some of nature's most wholesome, basic and hard working foods. Dairy products are enjoyed from sun up 'til bedtime and never lose their fresh taste and appeal. They are excellent and economical providers of essential nutrients, too.

Cheese and Eggs
En Casserole
1 pound carrots

4 tablespoons butter
Dairy sour cream
Few dashes white pepper
4 hard cooked eggs
1/2 teaspoon onion salt
1/2 teaspoon basil, crumbled
2 tablespoons flour
1 1/2 cups milk
1 cup grated sharp cheddar cheese
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons minced parsley

Pare and trim carrots. Grate coarsely (you'll get about 4 cups). Saute in 2 tablespoons butter until tender crisp. Remove from heat and mix in 1/2 cup sour cream and pepper. Turn into four (1 1/2-cup) individual baking dishes. Halve eggs. Mash yolks and mix with 2 tablespoons sour cream, the onion salt and basil. Spoon egg yolk mixture into egg whites. Place two filled egg halves on top of each baking dish. Melt remaining 2 tablespoons butter in saucepan. Blend in flour. Stir in milk and cook, stirring, until mixture thickens and comes to boil. Stir in cheese, salt and parsley. Cook until smooth. Spoon over eggs. Bake uncovered in 350° oven 20 minutes or until hot through. Makes 4 servings.

The Easter bunny can come right to your house from dairyland with an artful idea of petite individual casseroles he has nestled deviled eggs and garden fresh carrots. What could be better for that glorious morning?

Organic poultry

"Organic" meats and poultry are not safer sources of protein than regularly produced meats, says the California Dietetic Association, Inland Empire District.

When consumers buy "organic" meat, (from animals raised on feed that contains no added hormones, antibiotics or other drugs) they pay much more money with no assurances that it is any healthier than other meat.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has been unable to substantiate claims that such products are safer than regular meat and poultry not produced "organically," the dietitians say.

'Is mine OK?'

Bumper law spelled out by patrol

Is my car required to have a bumper?

Numerous inquiries have been received by the Pomona Area California Highway Patrol from motorists relating to requirements for bumpers on certain passenger vehicles. Captain W. C. Jones, commander of the CHP's Pomona area, provided the following information to clarify the definition of a bumper and to describe its proper installation for enforcement purposes.

"A bumper is defined as a device to prevent the front or rear body portions of a vehicle from making contact with the front or rear body of another vehicle," Jones said. "An adequate bumper should be regarded as a device constructed of metal, solid wood, pipe, metal bar or rod stock, heavy rubber blocks, or a combination of these materials that are securely affixed to the vehicle. Such devices either may be provided as original equipment or installed by the vehicle owner. Lightweight materials substituted for standard bumper installations that do not adequately prevent contact between the front or rear of the vehicle and another vehicle would not meet the intent of the law."

The following guide may be helpful in identifying vehicles which are not required to have bumpers:

—Motorcycles and housecars.

—Specially constructed vehicles. The identification of a specially constructed vehicle may be determined by checking the registration indicia. If the indicia shows the make of vehicle as a brand name, such as Ford, Chevrolet, Volkswagen, etc., the vehicle should be considered a passenger car requiring bumpers. However, if the make of the vehicle is indicated as SPCN, it is a specially constructed vehicle.

—Four-wheel drive vehicles.

—Motor vehicles constructed on a truck chassis. When the cargo body is not combined with the front or cab portion of the body, these vehicles are not required to have bumpers. However, bumpers are required on pickup-type vehicles when the cargo carrying portion of the body is an integral part of the designed body of the vehicle. Examples of this would be Chevrolet El Camino and Ford Ranchero.

—Motor vehicles operated for hire, compensation, or profit, including limousines for hire and ambulances.

—Makes of motor vehicles of a model year, manufactured or sold in California in quantities of less than 2,000 units for each model year. Such vehicles must be examined on an individual basis to determine bumper requirements.

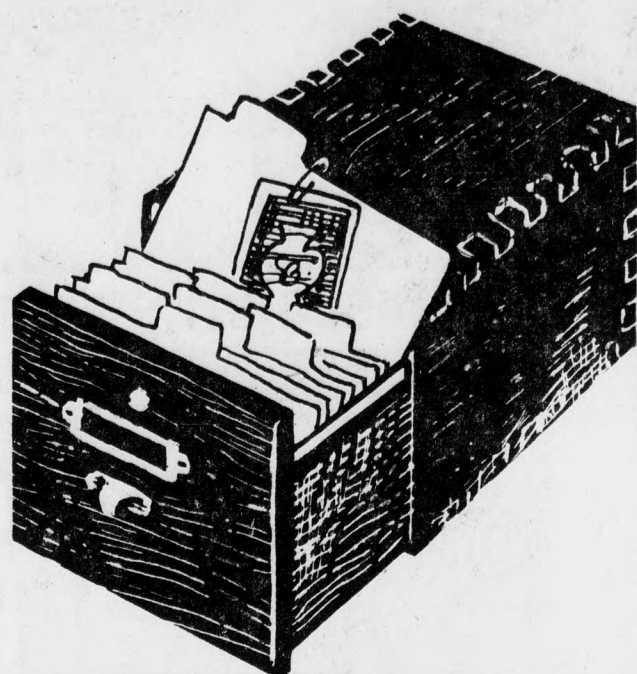

—Off-highway vehicles as determined by the Department of Motor Vehicles. These will probably be identified on the registration document as SPCN vehicles.

"Any motor vehicle registered as a historical vehicle and which was not equipped with bumpers as part of its original equipment should not be required to install bumpers."

"In addition, there are certain late model vehicles that have the front bumper and grill support area made of a resilient plastic that serves as the bumper. This type of construction complies with the bumper requirement."

"Vehicles with energy absorption system bumpers, pursuant to Federal requirements, meet the California law requirements," Captain Jones said.

Keep an inventory of your valuables in a card file like this. The 6x8-inch cards are kept in a large, old wooden file box. The larger cards make it possible to attach snapshots of the antiques and family heirlooms.

Today's Treasures

Keep inventory of your antiques

By JEAN BARNES

If through misfortune you were to lose all or part of your possessions would you be able to provide your insurance company with a complete list and descriptions of the missing items?

With the accelerating value of antiques and collectibles and the public awareness of their increased value it is more than a remote possibility that you could be victimized by theft.

You have been urged in the past to have a qualified appraisal of your valuables. If you have not done this we suggest that you at least inventory them completely.

Our inventory is kept in a simple card file. Several years ago a printer friend ran off a form on 6 x 8-inch cards which are kept in a large, old wooden file box. The larger cards allow us to attach a snapshot of the item and to include a wide variety of information about each object.

Your inventory need not be a card file. It may be more convenient to use a spiral notebook or typewritten pages. Having a good descriptive record is very important, however you choose to do it.

Information you should include is: the name of the object; its physical characteristics — color, size, shape and identifying marks; imperfections — damage or wear; where and when acquired; approximate age of piece and appraisal or estimated value.

Other information you might want to add are the origin and history of the item as well as any research findings and references you have used.

Family pieces should be especially noted. When children "grow up" with an object in the home it is often taken for granted. There should be some written record of second, third or fourth generation pieces. This is true not only for important heirlooms but for the simpler, every day things we accumulate and treasure.

Make your inventory inclusive by adding more than just antiques and collectibles.

Include other things in your household which have an intrinsic value for you.

Smaller items, even though they do not have a high monetary value, also should be listed.

Objects which do not "stand-out" in your home could be missing for several weeks without being noticed. Or, they could be forgotten when you are trying to determine "what was taken."

Make a copy of your inventory and keep it outside your home. Place it either in a safety deposit box at the bank or with your attorney.

Finally, when you have completed your inventory, consider the advisability of a qualified appraisal.

Stabilized rent urged

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Assemblyman Barry Keene, D-Eureka, has introduced legislation calling for a stabilization of rents in mobile home parks. The measure allows a tenant in a mobile home park the option of obtaining an 18-month rental agreement at a fixed rate. The rental amount could not be more than 5 per cent higher than the rent as of January 1, 1975. However, property tax increases and other types of assessments could be passed on to the tenant in the rent if proper notice is given by the park landlord. The bill does not call for any state agency to administer its provisions, so therefore there is no cost to the state, Keene stated in explaining the bill.

Ready, willing and able

Roses are good mixers

The rose garden always will be a source of mass color, beauty and a source of pride. It is not necessary to avoid planting and enjoying roses simply because you lack the garden space to give them a bed unto themselves.

In bygone days, the theory was that roses weren't good mixers in the garden. But, modern rose culture has pretty well exploded that myth: today's roses are ready, willing and able to perform any number of garden jobs.

Transition eased by interiorscape

In today's open style of architecture, interiorscaping (indoor landscaping) with foliage plants eases the transition between indoors and out. Because of the variety of plant choices, you can have a distinctive landscape — on both sides of the indoor-outdoor wall.

Many plants do well indoors and out and it is not unusual to see identical specimens, for instance, on either side of an atrium's glass wall. Some plants are recommended for indoor use, while others are suited only for the garden.

Where big, showy foliage is desired — foliage that offers an evergreen, ever-fresh face — the glossy aralia is a leading candidate. It produces huge, deeply split leaves, which in turn create dramatic patterns against the atrium wall.

Another excellent choice for either side of the indoor-outdoor wall is weeping fig (Ficus benjamina), an upright-grower.

The hybrid teas produce the long-stemmed flowers which are universal favorites — the individual flowers are classic, formal and distinctive. Nurseries now have their largest selection of varieties for the entire year.

Floribunda roses also have many uses, and are popular today as colorful landscape shrubs. This basically compact-growing group of roses is more floriferous, bearing clusters of blooms in a near continuous show of color. Is it any wonder that floribundas are used in massed beds by themselves, or used as a garden border — or used for effect in the foundation planting? So bountiful is the color production throughout the year, gardeners utilize floribundas in containers, for portable beauty.

Grandifloras are big and impressive crosses between the hybrid teas and floribundas, combining the prolific bloom of one with the regal size of the other. The individual varieties are sure to please — as a good sized flowering specimen in a planting with other large shrubs, or as a tall flowering hedge composed of several grandifloras.

Many popular varieties are available today as climbing roses, or in tree rose form, reports the California Association of Nurserymen. Today there are everblooming climbers to decorate a fence — or upright-growing pillar roses to cover posts and other supports. Tree roses are not new on the scene, but contemporary gardeners are using more and more of them. Popular varieties are available in this form and the heads of color are sights to behold from spring to fall. The plants are distinctive focal points in the garden without overwhelming the landscape.
